DETAILED ACTION

CLAIMS

Summary

Claim 1 is the independent claim under consideration in this Office Action.

Claims 2-6 are the dependent claims under consideration in this Office Action.

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 112, first paragraph

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. In claim 1, this claim is subject to undue breadth. The recited means does not appear in combination with any other recited element of means.

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) The invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(b) as being anticipated by Bastida (4,627,181).

Bastida teaches a steam iron including a water reservoir 1 for holding water, which is fed to the vaporization chamber 2. A hydraulic circuit is provided for connecting the reservoir to the steam generation chamber. The circuit includes in series a drip preventing valve(s) 14 and 15 and an adjustable drip device 5. Bastida teaches means lever means 9 for admitting water from the reservoir to the adjustable drip valve 5. The drip valve 5 includes a shaft carrying member 6 with a lug 7 and a cam surface 20 for adjusting the drip device from a dry ironing state to a steam providing state to a self-cleaning state. In the dry ironing state the means 9 is moved to close the path of water to the valve 5 by an actuation with thermally responsive bimetallic blades 14 and 15. When the iron is adjusted to a steam forming state, the heated soleplate actuates movement of the bimetallic blades to allow the movement and opening of the path, which allows water to enter into the valve area 5. When in the self-cleaning state, the means 9 is pushed by the lug 7 along the corresponding cam surface so as to open the water path and act against the blades by using the pressure of the spring and cam so as to retain the water path open regardless of the temperature of the soleplate. The upward force of the bimetallic blades is rendered insufficient to overcome the force of the spring (within 6) and the desired position of the cam surface (column 4, lines 15-30), thus allowing a cleaning of the iron.
